ANOTHER WARREN ENTERS

STATE POLITICS - WANTS

JERRY CARTER'S JOB

Richard Warren, a brother of the widely known Fuller Warren of Jacksonville, has announced his candidacy for a place on the state railroad commission in the primary election next spring. Last spring Mr. Warren was chosen by the people of his home county - Union - to be their county school superintendent. He is serving in that capacity now. He doesn't come up for re-election in the school superintendent race until the spring of 1944.

FOOTBALL STARTED ON EASTERN SHORE OF LAKE OKEECHOBEE BACK IN 1930

On the afternoon of October 17, 1930, the first Pahokee football team went into action on a gridiron. The game was played in the afternoon and Danis high school furnished the opposition. The local aggregation won the afternoon's encounter by a score of 14 to 0.

The first team in Pahokee was coached by Principal E. E. Bishop and Rev. Joe A. Tolle, the pastor of the First Methodist church. Using the old files of The Everglades first game we found that the team was run by Quarterback Louie Gold. An unusual record was established that first year in that the team lost only one or two games.

In the fall of 1931 Frank Hooten came to Pahokee as head coach and remains in that position today. Hooten has had unusual success with Pahokee teams and the win column outbalances the loss column by a great deal.

Tonight, when Hooten's Pahokee Blue Devils took onto lighted fair field in the swankiest uniforms money can buy, there will be several members of that 1930 team in the grandstand - thinking about that day when they played the Pania team in the first encounter on the shores of Lake Okechobee.

On that starting team of more than a decade ago there were nine of the eleven boys who had never seen a football game - let alone play in one. But, their training was good and the results were excellent.

AFTER TWELVE LONG YEARS YED RECEIVES A BOUQUET FOR A STORY

It was back in 1929 that the editor of this newspaper (then called the Glensville (Ga.) Sentinel. One quiet morning a sawmill boiler blew up and killed six men. This editor recorded the happenings of that morning for the Sentinel and the Associated Press.

Last week another sawmill explosion up there took the lives of two men and injured four more. Some other editor on the Sentinel recorded that story. But, in recording that story the present editor of that Georgia paper recalled the explosion and the story of twelve years ago. In commenting on the stories sent out on the 1929 explosion he said, among other things:

"The best story that was written about that tragedy was the one by Paul Rardin, who was at the time, editor of the Sentinel. His story is full of human interest and pathos, and ranks high among the truly great literary productions of this section."

For which we are deeply appreciative. Whether the story is a great literary production is beside the point. The fact that the present Frank Hooten gave credit for an honest effort is praise enough.
